Regional Solid Waste Management Plan

What's Happening Now?

The Draft Regional Solid Waste Management Plan is currently under review! Thanks to those who completed the 2019 survey as well as the members of the Public and Technical Advisory Committee (PTAC) who have shared their ideas and experiences with us to shape this report.

Some of the initial findings and potential strategies were presented to the PRRD Board at the August 13th Board Meeting. Based on the feedback that was received, the Draft Solid Waste Management Plan is being revised and is planned to be ready for more public consultation this winter. Staff and consultants are currently working on the best solutions to give the public an opportunity to view the report and provide feedback while respecting all provincial health requirements during the COVID-19 pandemic.

Treaty Land Entitlement Meetings

Thank you to the Doig River First Nation, McLeod Lake Indian Band, and West Moberly First Nations for holding Treaty Land Entitlement meetings with us to discuss how we can best work together through the Treaty Land Entitlement process currently taking place between Indigenous peoples and higher levels of government. The PRRD is proud to take part in these meetings to better understand the process and to establish stronger relationships with Indigenous people in the region as they strive for recognition of their Indigenous rights and title.
